Reserve Generation

The Band of the U.S. Air Force Reserve's popular music group, Reserve Generation, represents the Air Force and Air Force Reserve in concerts at high schools, colleges, and universities in cities throughout the United States. They entertain thousands each year, performing an intriguing mix of contemporary adult songs, rhythm and blues, jazz, and country. They also perform hits from the 60's to today's Billboard Magazine Hot 100 listing to include rock, rap, and hip-hop.

Their incredible versatility and energetic approach to designing concise musical presentations for each performance always reach an enthusiastic response from all audiences. The end result being a unique blend of personal musical style that excites both the performer and listener.

Reserve Generation has performed for special events and festivals all over America. They have performed for service members and DOD civilians throughout the world combining diplomacy, entertainment, and morale. One of the group's highlights included an appearance on TNN's "Nashville Now". They have also performed for troops in Honduras, Turkey, Italy, the Azores, and for dignitaries such as U.S. Ambassadors to Azerbaijan and Bulgaria. Each year the members of Reserve Generation take to the road with them their "Drug Free" show to educate elementary and middle school students on the dangers of drugs.

The members of the Band of the U.S. Air Force Reserve are active duty professional Air Force musicians working in support of the Air Force Reserve and Air Force Recruiting and community relations objectives.
